Tribe of Levi — House Rules

Read these rules alongside your application. By entering the program, you commit to abide by them for the duration of your stay.

1. Faith & Spiritual Life

- Residents are expected to actively pursue their relationship with Jesus Christ through daily prayer, Bible reading, and participation in house devotionals.
- Attendance at weekly house meetings and designated church services is required.
- Residents may not attend outside religious gatherings, studies, or events without prior approval from house leadership.
- Proselytizing of other faiths or ideologies within the house is not permitted.

2. Sobriety & Substances

- Zero tolerance for alcohol, illegal drugs, or misuse of prescription medications. Violation results in immediate removal from the program.
- Residents must submit to random drug and alcohol screening at any time requested by house leadership.
- Possession or distribution of any controlled substance on or near the property is grounds for immediate removal and may result in law enforcement notification.
- Prescription medications must be disclosed to house leadership and stored according to house policy.
- Tobacco and vaping are not permitted inside any house facility.

3. Curfew & Accountability

- All residents must be inside the house by 10:00 PM Sunday–Thursday and 11:00 PM Friday–Saturday, unless prior written approval is obtained from house leadership.
- Residents must notify house leadership before leaving the property for any reason during restricted hours.
- Overnight absences require advance approval and must be reported to a parole or probation officer if applicable.
- Residents are expected to account for their whereabouts and activities as part of discipleship accountability.

4. Respect & Conduct

- Residents will treat all house leaders, staff, visitors, and fellow residents with dignity and respect at all times.
- Profanity, verbal abuse, intimidation, and threatening behavior are not tolerated.
- Physical violence of any kind — including threats — will result in immediate removal and potential criminal charges.
- Residents may not possess weapons of any kind on the property.
- Sexual misconduct of any kind, including inappropriate material, is prohibited and may result in removal.
- Residents are expected to resolve conflicts through open, honest communication with house leadership — not with other residents directly if tensions are elevated.

5. Service Hours & Work

- Each resident is required to complete a minimum number of service hours per week as assigned by house leadership.
- Residents are expected to actively pursue employment or a structured educational/vocational program unless otherwise approved.
- Income, employment status, and financial obligations (fines, restitution, child support) must be disclosed and managed responsibly.
- A monthly program contribution (rent) is required for all residents able to work. Amount is set by house leadership and reviewed regularly.

6. House Responsibilities

- Each resident is assigned chores and is responsible for maintaining their personal space and shared common areas in a clean, orderly condition.
- Personal belongings must be kept in designated areas. The house is not responsible for lost or stolen items.
- Residents may not bring guests onto the property without prior approval from house leadership.
- Female guests are not permitted in residential areas under any circumstances.
- Residents may not use another resident's belongings without permission.
- Unauthorized use of house vehicles, equipment, or resources is prohibited.

7. Technology & Media

- Internet-capable devices are permitted but must be used responsibly. Pornography, gambling sites, and illegal content are strictly prohibited and may be cause for immediate removal.
- House leadership reserves the right to inspect devices when there is reasonable cause for concern.
- Social media use must not compromise the safety, privacy, or reputation of Tribe of Levi, its residents, or its staff.
- Residents may not post photos or videos of other residents without explicit consent.

8. Relationships & Family

- No dating relationships allowed during the first year in the program. Residents already married or officially engaged to be married when they enter the program are exempt.
- Family visitation is encouraged in appropriate settings and must be approved by house leadership.
- House leadership reserves the right to restrict contact with individuals deemed harmful to a resident's recovery or safety.
- Residents must honor any existing court orders, restraining orders, or custody agreements at all times.

9. Program Participation

- Full participation in all scheduled house meetings, discipleship sessions, classes, and program events is required.
- Residents must engage with their assigned mentor or accountability partner on a regular basis.
- Residents are expected to remain in the program for the full committed duration. Early departure without leadership approval may result in loss of program benefits.
- Violations of these rules will be addressed first through grace and restoration. Repeated or serious violations may result in removal from the program.
- Removal from the program due to rule violations does not constitute any financial refund of program contributions.

10. Commitment to the Tribe Pact

- By signing this agreement, the resident acknowledges they have read, understand, and agree to all of the above rules and expectations.
- The resident understands that Tribe of Levi is a faith-based discipleship ministry and agrees to participate in the Christian principles and lifestyle at the core of this program.
- The resident gives permission for Tribe of Levi leadership to communicate with their probation/parole officer, case worker, or approved family contacts as necessary for their care and accountability.
- The resident understands that this agreement is a commitment made before God and their brothers — not merely a legal document — and will honor it as such.

I have read and understood the Tribe of Levi House Rules in their entirety. I agree to abide by these rules for the duration of my time in the program. I understand that violations may result in removal from the program.
